

Anney Weekly News Inspiring Hearts and Minds

Week ending 17/6/2022

Dear Parents and Carers,

Yet another super busy week, just a few highlights ... all of the children had a fabulous morning with their new class teacher (for September 22). Year 2 read the story of What We'll Build by Oliver Jeffers, then they thought about what makes a good friend and worked in teams to make spaghetti towers. Year 4 Multiplication Check. We were very proud of their positive attitude, and their consideration of others by following the test conditions. They all tried their best and all of their TTRS practice really paid off! Well done Year 4! Year 5 and 6 led a whole school assembly on their recent work with the Commonwealth War Graves Commission.

Don't forget our Summer Fayre takes place on Monday 4th July immediately after school, full details will be given next week.

The ever changing world we live in means our children have many ways to communicate with each other that just didn't exist when we were their age. Children and young people use many different social media apps and sites. The most popular are Facebook and Instagram, with many others such as Snapchat, TikTok and Twitter. There are lots of benefits to social networking. They can allow users to stay connected with friends and family. They can also learn many different things, from make-up or gaming tutorials to making slime, or how to create their own videos. Like most things, there can be negatives too. For children and young people there are risks that you should be aware of, to help keep your child safe on social media. Age ratings and features - Get to know the age ratings of the apps that your child uses. Many have a minimum age of 13 years old to be able to sign up, but you should check the age rating of individual apps to make sure. You know your children best and it really is important to chat to them about how they are using social media so you can help them stay safe. The following websites might prove useful to you when talking to your children.

In this week's liturgy we hear how Jesus performed a great miracle with bread for five thousand people. In the gospel, through God's grace, everyone, all 5000 people, eat the bread and the fish, and there is plenty left over, twelve baskets full! Do you remember to thank God for the food that you eat every day? And what about the people who grow, harvest, prepare, sell and cook your food? Do you thank them? Even though there is enough food produced in the world to feed everyone there are many people who go without food every day – both here in the UK and in other countries. One person in every ten is hungry. Big food companies are growing and sharing food in many ways that harm the earth and make it difficult for some people to have enough food to eat. They make lots of money and hold lots of power, while small scale farmers around the world, along with their families and communities are left living in poverty. One of the things that we can do is to ask the government to support the people around the world who grow food, not the big companies. Let us also try to do one thing this week to help make the world a fairer place, so that everyone has enough to eat.

Have a great week – Mrs Irvine and Mrs Johnson
